MIDDLESEX COLLEGE

ANNUAL REPORT ■ 2025-2026

ACHIEVEMENT THROUGH CONNECTION

ANNUAL REPORT 2025-2026

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Students who graduate from Middlesex College build more than credit hours in their academic journey—they discover opportunities, develop confidence, and forge connections that shape who they will become. Each club they join, group project they participate in, community service hour they log, and event they attend is a step toward achieving their goals, supported by fellow students, faculty, staff, alumni, and donors who believe in their potential.

That shared purpose—our commitment to student success—is what connects us. Every day, our dedicated faculty challenge students to think bigger while our staff provide guidance through every stage of the college journey, and our alumni and donors create opportunities through scholarships and transformative gifts that build world-class learning facilities.

When people unite around a shared purpose, extraordinary things happen. In Academic Year 2025-2026, Middlesex College celebrated the largest Fall enrollment among New Jersey community colleges with 12,750 students. The College also maintained a 73% year-over-year student retention rate, one of the strongest in the state. These milestones reflect the collective commitment our entire college community has to expanding access and supporting student achievement.

Stories of our graduates demonstrate how our shared focus on helping students achieve their goals brings their dreams to life. From Mel Mancheno ’26, who fused curiosity with compassion to pursue psychology and research in human diversity, to Nina Salamatova ’26, who turned her adversity as a child of war into a passion for promoting peaceful dialogue, every graduate’s story reflects not only individual determination but the encouragement, mentorship, and support they enjoyed along the way.

Academic Year 2025-2026 demonstrated the power of achievement through connection. Together, we create opportunities, foster growth, and prepare graduates to lead, serve, and make a difference in their communities.

Mark McCormick
President, Middlesex College

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Middlesex College is to provide access to a quality, affordable education for a diverse population, to support student success for lifelong learning, and to strengthen the economic, social, and cultural life of the community.

NINA SALAMATOVA

As a teenager, Nina Salamatova moved across more than a dozen countries before settling in New Jersey to flee the war in Ukraine. With housing insecurity and education costs an ever-present barrier in Salamatova's life, she decided to attend Middlesex College. But these hurdles didn't stop her from thinking big.

Before Salamatova was named the Class of 2026 Valedictorian, she made her mark on the College through engagement in the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society, Transfer Success Club, College Assembly, and in taking on the role of founder and president of the Political Science Club.

As president, Salamatova spearheaded the state's first-ever Intercollegiate Dialogue in collaboration with Raritan Valley Community College. She was also a Princeton Transfer Scholars Initiative participant, an AI for Impact Community College Fellow, and a Jack Kent Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship semifinalist.

Salamatova plans to pursue her passion for global change through study and research of conflict, fusing theory and practice into becoming a public servant. Due to her upbringing surviving war, she hopes to continue to promote peace in all aspects of her life.

Salamatova transferred to Princeton University to study political science. Beaming with pride, Salamatova was proud to represent Middlesex College as valedictorian and reflect the resilience of her classmates.

"I wanted to be valedictorian not for recognition or status, but because I felt like I had something to say," Salamatova shared with fellow graduates at Commencement. "I want this title to represent not just me, but all of us: this shared resilience, this unwillingness to give up, and this belief that we can still build something better, no matter where we come from or what we've been through."

MEL MANCHENO

By their own account, if you had told Mel Mancheno a few years ago that they would be named Class of 2026 Salutatorian and headed to Princeton University, they probably would have laughed. But now with that reality setting in, Mancheno's outlook is expanding.

Mancheno attended multiple traditional high schools in Florida before getting their diploma through an online program. By then, they'd already discovered a love of creative writing and had earned almost 50 college credits. This was when they made the decision to attend Middlesex College.

In addition to participating in the Middlesex College Honors Program and graduating with a 4.0 GPA, Mancheno is a National Youth Advisory Council alum, where they used their role to advocate for teenage homelessness concerns. Mancheno also runs their own nonprofit organization devoted to issues connected to queer individuals.

Mancheno is a recipient of the highly competitive Jack Kent Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship, which provides students in pursuit of a bachelor's degree with up to $55,000 per year as well as ongoing support through advising, internship opportunities, and access to a nationwide network of over 3,900 scholars and alumni.

Mancheno transferred to Princeton University where they study psychology and plan to pursue research with transgender populations in the University's Human Diversity Lab. Mancheno credits the Middlesex College community for supporting students to reach their goals.

"Middlesex College has given me and so many others a second chance at education, at work, at life—particularly at a time when higher education felt completely out of reach for me," said Mancheno. "It's hard to imagine what my life would be like without the support of this place and the amazing people this College has given me. I'm beyond proud to have been a student here."

MAHI SANGHVI

For Mechanical Engineering student Mahi Sanghvi, Middlesex College was a practical first step toward her future. But after two years and countless memories, Sanghvi affirms it was so much more.

Getting involved on campus helped her understand her potential as a student, mentor, and leader. Sanghvi joined the Honors Program, College Assembly, Transfer Success Club, Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society, and Academic Standards Task Force.

Demonstrating leadership excellence, Sanghvi was one of two students chosen to represent Middlesex College on the New Jersey All-State Academic Team and attended the 2026 Student Leadership Summit.

Sanghvi also spearheaded the relaunch of the Society of Women Engineers (SWE) at the College and served as the club's president. The organization provides a space for women studying engineering on campus, hosting events and study sessions to create an inclusive and encouraging environment. At the end of the Spring semester, Sanghvi moderated a Women in STEM panel featuring professors who shared their experiences and words of wisdom.

"Engineering is not just one skill set or personality type," Sanghvi said. "Some people are great at coding, and some are better at building or writing. SWE helped me learn what kind of person I am."

Sanghvi's passion for robotics and rehabilitation engineering was ignited as a participant in the Princeton Transfer Scholars program. She hopes that her imprint on Middlesex College encourages women engineering students to believe in themselves. Sanghvi is currently studying mechanical engineering at Rutgers University.

"Middlesex College gave me the space to grow into myself as a student," Sanghvi said. "I found professors who cared, classmates who were serious about their goals, and opportunities that made me feel capable of doing more than I had imagined."

VICTOR GIL

Though he began his college journey as a business major, Victor Gil says Middlesex College provided him a holistic education that was able to fit and meld his interests.

Gil held various campus leadership roles including being a Bonner Leader and co-founder/president of the Transfer Success Club, as well as a member of the Honors Program, Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society, Business Club, and Political Science Club. He was also selected to present at the Northeast Regional Honors Council Annual Conference, where he received the prestigious Scholarship for Equity and Access Award.

During the summer before his second year at Middlesex College, Gil participated in the Princeton Transfer Scholars program, where he used data to identify the correlation between the number of social media platforms and perceived knowledgeability of monkeys.

“This research project opened my mind up to sociology,” said Gil. “Marketing and sociology deal with the study of human interaction, so I can see myself succeeding in either field.”

Gil had several opportunities to present research from his classes, including at Honors Student Spotlights held each semester. Gil presented about topics as wide-ranging as a behavioral analysis of Avatar character Toph Beifong and the geologic history of Venezuela’s oil reserves.

These experiences widened Gil’s perspective on the possibilities of different academic and career paths.

“Middlesex College gave me a range of disciplines to consider, to which I now feel like sociology is a better fit for me,” said Gil, who graduated with an associate degree in business administration in May.

Gil is weighing several options for the next step in his college education. He hopes to take a career path focused on public service, studying sociology, and working for government or nonprofit organizations.

TURNING PROMISE INTO POSSIBILITY

The Middlesex College Foundation exists to help students move beyond obstacles and achieve a brighter future. Through the generosity of donors, alumni, businesses, and community partners, the Foundation creates opportunities that extend far beyond a single moment of support. From the $2.7 million gift from the Paul Hilf Trust to scholarships, emergency aid, digital access, and program funding, our donors help students persist, succeed, and realize their full potential. This holistic approach reflects the Foundation's commitment to empowering students not only in the classroom, but throughout every stage of their educational journey.

Scholarship Assistance

A scholarship can be the turning point that changes a student's outlook on what is possible. Since 1967, the Middlesex College Foundation has distributed over $22.5 million in scholarships, financial aid, and grants to students. In fiscal year 2026, donor generosity provided 563 students with 1,102 scholarship awards totaling $618,688. These gifts are a message of hope to students for what lies ahead.

Innovative Academic Program Support

Innovative academic programs and student-centered initiatives enrich the educational experience and prepare students for future success. In fiscal year 2026, the Middlesex College Foundation provided $940,177.31 in program support, creating opportunities for experiential learning, leadership development, cultural engagement, career exploration, and academic achievement.

Transformational Philanthropy

Transformational philanthropy creates a lasting impact not only for today's students but for generations to come. This year the Foundation received a $2.7 million gift from the Paul Hilf Trust, which will establish the Paul Hilf Center for Allied Healthcare Education and Paul Hilf Healthcare scholarships to enhance opportunities for the Allied Health program.

In Fiscal Year 2026, the Foundation received significant philanthropic investments totaling $3,910,085. Investments like this ensure that future generations benefit from a college environment designed to foster creativity, innovation, and success.

Meeting Basic Student Needs

Food insecurity, housing challenges, transportation difficulties, and unexpected emergencies can quickly derail educational progress. The Foundation continues to address these barriers through holistic support programs that help students remain focused on their goals. In Fiscal Year 2026, donors contributed $64,300 to student basic needs initiatives, including emergency assistance, food security programs, technology access, and other critical support services. The newest addition to this strategy was a pilot program to provide bus passes to students so they can access reliable transportation to class.

THE RIPPLING EFFECT OF GENEROSITY: TOUCHING THE FUTURE

The true power of philanthropy cannot be measured by dollars alone. Every gift creates a ripple effect that extends far beyond a student's immediate need. A scholarship may lead to graduation. A laptop may open the door to academic success. Emergency assistance may prevent a student from leaving college altogether. Together, these moments become transformational turning points that shape futures, strengthen families, and enrich communities.

Because of the generosity of our donors, students gain confidence, opportunity, and the ability to imagine a future without limits. Today's gifts become tomorrow's achievements, creating a legacy of impact that will continue to inspire generations of Middlesex College students for years to come.
